

Trade Interchange apprentice scoops key awards

Trade Interchange, leading supplier management solutions provider to the foodservice industry, is celebrating after company apprentice, Lyndon Davies, was named Northern Skills Apprentice of The Year.

Nineteen-year-old Davies has been working at Trade Interchange since September 2016, helping to develop the company's industry-leading software suite. As well as picking up the Apprentice of The Year title at the first Northern Skills Apprentice Award Ceremony, Davis was also awarded the IT and Digital Apprentice Award for his outstanding contribution to the team's work.

Davies is one of two apprentices at the company, showing the business' investment in young and local talent.

Co-Founder and Managing Director of Trade Interchange, Mike Edmunds commented, "We're delighted that Lyndon has been given the recognition he deserves for his hard work and tremendous input over the last year.

'We see huge value in investing in young people at the early stages of their career, helping to develop skills whilst bringing fresh thought to the industry. It's great that we are able to keep these individuals within the region and establish ourselves as an employer of choice in the digital hub of Teesside.'
